Times says: We announced several weeks since that, owing to the unexpected discrenancies in the footing up of the popular was for President in the various political arranges, we were unable, even at this late discount to decide whether Garfield or Hancock had been supported by the country. Relying upon of ascertaining the vote on plurality in a State in the Presidential election, we have in all cases used the highest cast in that State for either Republican or Democratic elector. In Virginia the Funder and Readjuster vote account of his statement in the reichstag that Treikchke supported the tobacco mo-nopoly against his convictions. Lowe has designated his representative. H. Michael, of this city, this afternoon: A desperate character named Tom Ryan attempted to assist the commandant of the city. The council will consist of a member for each of the 228 city districts, and will be elected by the votes of all the landlords and independent tenants. It is understood that the council will decide by a majority vote on all measures submitted by the commandant, and the decisions of the majority will be expected by the commandant, and the decisions of the majority will be expected. very numerous questions we have received on this subject, as it will be accepted by the country generally as finally settling this much vexed question. There are political lessons to be drawn from the fact of so small a plurality in so immense a vote, which we leave to others to point out. San Francisco, March 31.-Late advices san Francisco, narch of — Late advices from Hawaii say that the smallpox epidemic still continues among the natives at Honolulu. Few, if any, of the white people have taken the disease. The natives who have taken the smallpox have been sent to a reef off the shore. Little can be learned from from the imperial treasury. The Agence Russe says that the measure is part of a scheme for the whole empire projected by the late czar.

A violent quarrel has broken out in the the natives themselves concerning the rav-ages of the disease. The court of appeals sustains the decision of the queen's bench in Bradlaugh's case, to the effect that affirmation in the iouse of commons cannot be taken instead of the oath, as in courts of law. Bradlaugh will appeal to the house of lords. Herr Most, of the Freiheit, has been indicted at the Bow street police court for publishing the people to commit murder outside of hi majesty's dominions. Most was remanded for a week, and was not allowed bail. Mr. Poland, in opening the case against Most, freedom of the press, and that Most had a right to publish anything a British subject might publish. He then read articles in the Freiheit of the 9th of March. Some persons applanded a passage lauding the murder of the czar and were ejected. Mr. Poland pointed out that the article contained a direct incentive to murder the emperor of Germany. who was described as the "Erewhite Grape-shot Prince" of Pressia, and added that the act provided that persons inciting to murder were guilty of a misdemeanor, and liable to penal servitude for the maximum term of ten or the minimum term of three years, or two years imprisonment with hard labor. It would be a scandal to justice if the act was not enforced against a specific property of the penal railroad, and passengers and freight taken through to St. Paul at river rates.

the publication of such articles. The police, DAVENPORT, IA., March 31.—The Illinois and Mississippi River and Canal Improvement commissioners held an adjourned meeting at Rock Island to-day, at which arrangements were made for a northwestern convention to be held in Davenport Freiheit, owned the authorship of the article, and expected prosecution.

The Daily News says it any foreign pressure has been used to induce the government to undertake proceedings against the Freiheit, it is probably emanates from Germany. The Freiheit's retrospective approval of the murder of the czar is less dangerous than the suggestions it is charged with throwing out for the repetition of crime in other countries, and which, it is alleged, point not obscurely to Emperor William. The News, however, doubts the expediency of the prosecution.

Lord Beaconsfield is somewhat easier. His private sectretary has been telegraphed to return from Algiers. A later dispatch states that Lord Beaconsfield is no worse.

Bradlaugh, addressing his supporters at Northsmpton, said that if re-elected he would take the oath and immediately ask leave to introduce a bill substituting affirmation.

In the house of commons Sir William Harcourt, replying to questions, read extracts from an obnoxious article in the Freiheit, and pointed to their revolting character. He said that its attacks even included one of the Presidents of the United States. The government thought it would be a grave error from a domestic as well as international point of view to ignore the article. It was a domestic crime and a breach of public morality to incite crime. No government would do its duty if it allowed refuge in a free state to be converted into a hotbed of incitement of assassination. The government acted on its own accord and was not instigated by foreign powers. Saddle, Harness and Collar Factory, No. 299 MAIN STREET, MEMPHIS, TENN
